

Everything I Am

Ultraviolet Sound

You've become so real to me
Not anything I used to see
Now it's just reality
In the face that's looking back at me

All you want is me to please
To fit the mold and make you proud
You feed on my apology
And it's not because you like the sound

Live for you and not through me

You think you know everything I am
All the answers you can find are hiding in your head
They're everything I am

What you want I'll never be
So save me from your apathy
All your negativity
It ends up killing everything

Individuality
Is why we think so differently
I'm finding out what I believe
The kind of life I want to live

Live for you and not through me

You think you know everything I am
All the answers you can find are hiding in your head
They're everything I am

What will it take for you to see the possibility
Trying to love and learn from me
Just look at everything
Just look at everything
Everything I am

Everything I am
Everything I am
Everything I am
Everything I am
Everything I am

Everything I am
Everything I am
They're everything I am
Everything I am
