Christmas

Ulver

A god is born and others die. What is Has neither come nor gone, but error moves. Today we have exchanged eternities And what is past no novelty improves.

Blind knowledge is working at useless ground And crazy faith is living the dream of its liturgy A new god is a word - or the mere sound Don't seek and don't trust, for all is mystery.