

Onway Love

Umbra Et Imago

smooth is your skin, afflicted with sweet scent graceful is your slender appearance so young and beautiful you stand and still I cannot comprehend

I can feel your fear, read your view There's aggression between your words manifests of helplessness scar your mind like a young animal fighting for it's victim

I'm prosecuted you make me feel the guilt and still it doesn't bother me at all I'm a beast without a tender call that you are trying you strenght with far from you my thoughts stick on one grief same as your's, that you're not aware of the roles are switched, curious justice my heart is bleeding along with yours, though far away from you Love is a dreadful thing love is where the pain is what we can't have we are acheing for
