

Battlelines

Una Healy

Don't give up
Please say what you say, what you're never gonna say
I've said enough
But I know that enough is never enough
'Cause you're showing a shield with your eyes
My heart is tough
But the strain held ways in a different way
It's cold, it's rough
And it cries and I leave but I know I'm gonna stay

Ooh, light your battle lines
Don't hide away the fire that burns inside
'Cause outside, it is just you and me
So no one can lose this, fight
This fight is for love
This fight, this fight is for love

We climbed so high
And we saw so far and it seemed so right
But we fell down
Yeah, we gotta get up and we gotta move on
And we'll build our way back to the top
We'll get scars, we'll get burned
Yeah, get hurt but in love that's just the way

Ooh, light your battle lines
Don't hide away the fire that burns inside
'Cause outside, it is just you and me
So no one can lose this, fight
This fight is for love
This fight, this fight is for love

I figured out the fear that's been holding you back
Don't give up, don't give up
Come on, let's fight, fight
Face to face, eye to eye
Let love take us

Ooh yeah, light your battle lines
Don't hide away the fire that burns inside, oh yeah

Ooh, light your battle lines
Don't hide away the fire that burns inside
'Cause outside, it is just you and me
So no one can lose this, fight
This fight is for love (this fight is for love)
This fight, this fight is for love, oh
