

The Waiting Game

Una Healy

Holding on, sometimes we're just holding on
It's like we're hanging from a single thread
That's just about to come undone
But we carry on, oh yeah we carry on
You know you gotta learn to fall
Before you get a chance to run

'Cause even when you're living through the worst
You know the best is yet to come

Give me stormy skies
Give me higher walls to climb, that's just life
Light and shade, night and day
I'm not gonna break, yeah I'm playing the waiting game
When the seas get rough
And you, you think you've had enough of it all
Let's go again, ride the hurricane
We're not gonna break, yeah we're playing the waiting game

Here and now, let's not worry about tomorrow
Oh, let's stay here in the moment
And reach out and hold it, no coming down

'Cause even when you're living through the worst
You know the best is yet to come

Give me stormy skies
Give me higher walls to climb, that's just life
Light and shade, night and day
I'm not gonna break, yeah I'm playing the waiting game
When the seas get rough
And you, you think you've had enough of it all
Let's go again, ride the hurricane
We're not gonna break, yeah we're playing the waiting game

Someday all of this will be ours
Someday all of this will be ours
Someday all of this will be ours
Yeah we're just playing the waiting game
Someday all of this will be ours
Yeah we're just playing the waiting game

Give me stormy skies
Give me higher walls to climb, that's just life
Light and shade, night and day
I'm not gonna break, yeah I'm playing the waiting game
When the seas get rough
And you, you think you've had enough of it all
Let's go again, ride the hurricane
We're not gonna break, yeah we're playing the waiting game

Someday all of this will be ours, ooh yeah yeah
Someday all of this will be ours
We're not gonna break, yeah we're playing the waiting game
