

Blown Away

Under The Flood

You stripped me down of everything
Left me standing all alone
Just to save your innocent self
(You push me closer to the edge)
You couldn't stand alone no
You couldn't even stand to fall
And now I suffer while you walk...

You've crossed the line...

Blown away
I can't see where it all went wrong
Thrown away
All of the things that you and I had made so strong
My mistake for always
Trusting in you and never questioning your intent
Such a shame but I'll
Weigh it all out in the end

I'm finding it easier to breathe
With this cage surrounding me
The gentle tapping feels so sweet
I think of all the times about
All the times you let me down
My sentence has been reduced
But I'll wait...

You're out of time...

Blown away
I can't see where it all went wrong
Thrown away
All of the things that you and I had made so strong
My mistake for always
Trusting in you and never questioning your intent
Such a shame but I'll
Weigh it all out in the end

You said "Don't go, I need you so bad, I'm hopeless, and I can't hold it all on my own I've tried."
I listened, seduced by your words
And now I'm.....Blown away

I can't see where it all went wrong
Thrown away
All of the things that you and I had made so strong
My mistake for always
Trusting in you and never questioning your intent
Such a shame but I'll
Weigh it all out in the end
