

Different Light

Under The Flood

And tell me a story
And tell me where it all went wrong
Millions of perfect little pieces
But you're barely holding on
You follow the leader
You follow the one you make so proud
Live in a world with no way out
But you didn't want it
No you didn't want it

Are you afraid
Are you lost and faithless
Because you're lying here lifeless
I want to know if you had more strength inside
Would you see me in a different light

You had the right way
You had it all so figured out
Maybe a part of you was dying
Wishing you were someone else
Fragile and hollow
Leaving the things you want the most
On top of the world
But you still know you didn't want it
No you didn't want it

Are you afraid
Are you lost and faithless
Because you're lying here lifeless
I want to know if you had more strength inside
Would you see me in a different light

Why don't you and I
Take a look at the world through my eyes
Because I'm trying to find if you had more strength inside
Would you see me in a different light

You were wrong, you were right
You were out of your mind
I'm going crazy
All the lies, every fight
Every step out of line
I think just maybe we are
It's gone too far
This is so hard
But none of it matters
It's all because of you

You had the right way
You had it all so figured out
Follow the leader until your heart burns out

Are you afraid

Why don't you and I
Would you see me in a different light

You were wrong, you were right
You were out of your mind
I'm going crazy

You were wrong, you were right
You were out of your mind
I'm going crazy
