

Between Stars

Underworld

I drive too fast
Under a full moon
Save the best to last
Under a full moon

And pray you don't crash
Under a full moon
When the head's too far out of whack
Step back, step back

Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back

And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing

We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth
Under a full moon
Under a full moon

I got you on my brain again, again
And I hear your voice
On a northbound bus
Chinatown to Chinatown

And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing

We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth
Under a full moon

Will you hold my camera?
Will you press release?
Will you capture me?
As the lights go down

And the hope of the world
Rides with one man
Everybody crying
On the telephone ringing

We hold our breath
We spin around the world
You and me cling
To the outside of the earth

Under a full moon

Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back
Step back, step back

Don't wait for me, I'm always late
It's in my blood, in the stone
I feel the world go round
I feel the world go round
