

Unstoppable

Unearth

Wander this world with tired hands
Wander these streets a broken man
Been through this time after time and it wont be the last, but
I wont break again
Second lease on a terminal change
Every step met with force and demands
Reclaim all that loved and destroyed
Belief lends a hand to the path of the strong
I want to know, need to know, my next lesson
I want to feel whats alive inside of me
I want to know, need to know, my impression
I want to look inside and see whats made to be
I want to know
Concede the loss of the some to fuel the life of others
The unstoppable
Wandered alone, wont break again
Left forgotten and without hope, I still remain
Cant stop this heart
Wont break again
Forever as stone
