

I can feel the winds are changing thunder's underground Like an unsung visionary longing to be found Take me home
I've got no place I can roam Been rebel for so long All the days I've had to be strong being my own savior Faces in the night
they storm the barricades
Run with the renegades
"wrong" is now the "right"
leading this escapade
Run with the renegades
Is it time for retribution?
Or is it time to die?
Should I live in constant fear, it's one eye for an eye?
I'm on fire
my will out reasons desire And I'm tired of walking the wire
All this time it took me to learn
I don't need a savior
Faces in the night
they storm the barricades
Run with the renegades
"wrong" is now the "right"
leading this escapade
My path's already laid when I run with the renegades Take me home
there's no where left I can roam It's a journey to the unknown I've been waiting here far too long let me be your savior
Faces in the night
Faces in the night
they storm the barricades
We run with the renegades
"wrong" is now the "right"
out on our escapade They carry us away, because our path's already made And we run with the renegades
