

I look out my window, I see your reflection there
Images changing, I start to open my mind to you
The strength of your touch that binds us together, forever now
Now you're not far away there's not much to gain, and everything to lose

Oh, Angeliqua, I don't understand
Strange things are happening
I need to connect with you right now!

I remember the last time when I saw you smile at me
I wondered would I ever see your face again?
Or if I had a chance?

Oh, Angeliqua, I don't understand
Strange things are happening
I need to connect with you right now!

The one and only moment we had,
A distant memory, a fleeting glimpse.
It's all long gone, but not forgotten now,
Every facet of your face, remembered forever more.
I just can't get you off my mind,
Searching everywhere, frustration reigns
It seems that you've been lost in time
It's an endless journey, it's you I've got to find.

The time you were gone, we broke our connection
I needed you then, you gave me direction
There's a way out, if we're connected
You're leaving no doubt, left me unprotected

Oh, Angeliqua, give me your hand
Now things are happening
I need to connect with you right now!
