Follow Me Down

You're wondering if it's worth is You're wondering what to do You're asking me to see the future And you want me to tell it to you See, I can't believe it myself So how can I prove it to you? That this is all a dream

Okay follow me down Come on you can trust me now Okay follow me down You can trust me now

Recurring thoughts of separation Ones in which we are all alone What keeps a heart from feeling homeless Everywhere we look we see ourselves I'm not inclined to think in braided spirals I know I wasn't always this way What do I do and is it really worth it?

Okay follow me down Come on you can trust me now Okay follow me down Come on you can trust me now Okay follow me down You can trust me now
