Upon a Burning Body

to conform is to be destroyed.
From the top of a wasteland I bow to no man so when the shadow of evil sets in you must pray for damnation
And I will watch you bow your head in shame and I will set this world aflame.
For through the blood of the innocent I now know your name.

reap what you sew I'll be the one in your front and I'll bring the worst of intentions with me.
And I now I know you cant adore the pain anymore the world has left you behind.
With the setting of the sun you shall follow the path of deception.
and the running through the streets of your sorrow and plant the seeds of infection.
your not a martyr
your just a follower and to conform is to be destroyed.

From the top of a wasteland I bow to no man so when the shadow of evil sets in you must pray for
damnation
And I will watch you bow your head in shame
and I will set this world aflame.
For through the blood of the innocent I now know your
name.

bow your head in shame
and I will set this world a flame

name.
you need to use restraint so tell me are you a martyr I'll challenge everyone of your faiths and watch your kingdom slip farther and farther and farther away.

Your not a martyr
your just a follower

and to conform is to be destroyed, oh no I bow to no man who the fuck you to say what's treason oh no I bow to no man
so fuck you what the fuck do you believe in.
