

All In Your Head

Upon This Dawning

Only god owns the truth
Who am I to judge what you do?

I'll pray for all your sins, but those eyes have seen the end
Mercy comes through the hands of death
I will never give up until you're blessed

No, it's hard to go on when you're lost
My everything falls
Save me with all your love

Wake up this all in your head
Take a breath, take the deepest breath you can
Drowning in your darkest thoughts
How do you recognize what's hate or love?

I'll pray for all your sins, but those eyes have seen the end
Mercy comes through the hands of death
I will never give up until you're blessed

No, it's hard to go on when you're lost
My everything falls
Save me with all your love
