

City of Sin

Upon This Dawning

I feel your evil tongue around my neck
A thousand hands drag me down to hell
You can promise me a life but I can not do the same
I will be sleeping in your golden bed

I feel you breathing next to me
While I watch you burn
You won't find a way to escape
You're facing the fate

Cause everybody just needs to know
The reason why you're there and stand for nothing
And I'm trying to find the way cause I know the fate is calling
your name

I feel the evil running through my veins
I wanna stop to bear the weight of your past
You can promise me a life then I can promise you death
And I will keep your heart inside of me

I feel you breathing next to me
While I watch you burn
You won't find a way to escape
Your facing the fate

Cause everybody just needs to know
The reason why you're there and stand for nothing
And I'm trying to find the way cause I know the fate is calling
your name

Don't crucify me
I'm not your Jesus anymore
I'm just a sinner sailing this ship of souls

I'm just a fucking sinner sailing the ship of these souls

Cause everybody just needs to know
The reason why you're there and stand for nothing
And I'm trying to find the way cause I know the fate is calling
your name
