

Embrace The Evil

Upon This Dawning

How many times have you tried so hard to break me?
Too many times I cried after saying a prayer I got a secret that's hard to believe I saw the eyes of evil shining like diamonds WAKE UP!

Fuck! No one will try to protect you All the fears I got inside are gone
But I've been dead for awhile living in my weakness Waiting day by day to change

No god will come to save you from your sins I'll be there to watch you while all the things you've done are ripping you apart

Don't drag me down tonight
Otherwise you have to try your best to follow all the things yo u left behind
Don't drag me down tonight
Otherwise you have to witness when all your words will take me
down over again

Embrace the evil or get down

I won't be there and I won't be your savior
If you keep sitting on your throne

No god will come to save you from your sins
I'll be there to watch you while all the things you've done are
ripping you apart

Don't drag me down tonight
Otherwise you have to try your best to follow all the things yo
Don't drag me down tonight
down over again

You'd let me sleep in the arms of my father
You dragged me down with you to hell

Don't drag me down tonight
Otherwise you have to try you best to follow all the things you left behind
Don't drag me down tonight
down over again
