Vacation in Tokyo

Urge Overkill

All by herself At least I want her to be How could something so good just have to be so fragile? All the birds are singing high up in the trees Now she's gone I'm feelin the breeze

There's no more time Death's gonna come as it pleases So give me back my fantasy Give me back my better day

Imagine
We're fragile (hopeless)

I guess it's time I was leaving Honey, think of me three thousand feet up and flying free

There's no more time Death's gonna come as he pleases So give me back my fantasy Give me back my better days

Imagine We're fragile

And whenever you think of me can you picture me in my robe? My vacation in Tokyo Whatever we had was gone and it helps when you change the scene I can't really say for how long My vacation in Tokyo My vacation in Tokyo
