

Different World

Uriah Heep

You can't stop a man from learning
I could write the book of love
Captured moments there
Between me and you
Then I had the thought of leavin'
It was a voice inside my head
Telling me I got to have the strength
To see it through

And I know it's gonna break your heart

I'm living in a different world
And as I slip away
I see you fade to black and white
I'm living in a different world

With all my hopes and dreams
I drift off in the night

I'm alone but I'm not lonely
I found sometimes that I never had Laying back in the easy chair
Is not the life for me
You think I'm your one and only
But you gamble with a restless man
In the end I've found the way
That we can both be free
