

The Signal

Urthboy

Ladies and gentlemen, The Signal
We sending it out
Can you hear me?
Aha, yeah we coming home now right
(Please come home)
Check it out, you with me?
You come along with Urthboy
And Count Bounce now
(Please come home)
One, two, can you hear me?

You understand what we got up
And on the fast train
Express conga line to underline the last name
It seems we're behind and
We don't wanna start late
This adrenaline is meddling
With the heart rate (uh)
Some of the list well
It's unticked it can't wait
Can't take to sit still and can't break
Can't shake the shit,
'Cause through it all we
Still partake in it, facing it like
We haven't lost faith in it
Of course you got stakes in it
It's not a matter of you wasting it
Like black crude in Kuwaitn' it
Cat of nine tails rat-racing it
Spend all our days in it, raising it
Cut to the paper chase and it gets cold
Gets sold like fools gold gets extolled
Your absence felt ten-fold
And if you don't know
That you're welcome home behold

We've shared too much to not be blind
And if I didn't give a shit I'd probably just fine
That's why I'm sending out the signal
(Please come home)
One, two, can you hear me?
We've shared too much to not be blind
And if I didn't give a shit I'd probably just fine
That's why I'm sending out the signal
(Please come home)
One, two, can you hear me?

Yes indeed, we need to plant seeds
That might mean to leave
Cos life is lightspeed
Get it all together
Dot the 'I's and cross the Ts
I've not got the key nor philosophies like Socrates
It hasn't always been a perfect fit but
It ain't a contract either party need to rip up
Don't want no mix up,
You could get a lift up

Nobody decapitated others over hiccups (yo)
You're the kind of person
That you notice when they're gone
And the little hand tocks as the clock ticks on
And I miss that song
That we sung so long ago
I know a little place
You can dock your boat (right there)
You're not Ronnie Biggs your really not on the run
It's like I haven't seen you
Since the Rabbitohs won
So welcome back
Whenever you come (when you come)
(Please come home),
I see your silhouette in the sun

Look I can't stand the distance
I'll give up all pre-conditions
All will be forgiven and
If you (Please come home)
Ok, I said it
Look I can't stand the distance
I'll give up all pre-conditions
All will be forgiven and
If you (Please come home)
I'm sending out The Signal

We've shared too much to not be blind
And if I didn't give a shit I'd probably just fine
That's why I'm sending out the signal
(Please come home) One, two, can you hear me?
We've shared too much to not be blind
And if I didn't give a shit I'd probably just fine
That's why I'm sending out the signal
(Please come home) One, two, can you hear me?

Aha yeh something like that,
Something like that
Aw, get lost right back (oh man)
