

The Day You Cried

US5

I've seen the pain I caused
It's hard for me to lie
I didn't mean to make you cry

We could've built a castle
High up in the sky
But the love we shared is somewhere far away

How deep is your love, girl I can't deny?
The pain that I feel you're the reason why
If only I could've known that I could be so wrong
How deep is your love, I can see it inside
The times you cried and stayed by my side
I finally realised the day you cried

I've lived and learned some painful lessons in my life
And girl the truth I can't deny
Just give me one more chance
To make this turn out right
'Cause I need you here forever in my life

How deep is your love, girl I can't deny?
The pain that I feel you're the reason why
If only I could've known that I could be so wrong
How deep is your love, I can see it inside
The times you cried and stayed by my side
I finally realised the day you cried

I feel your pain, I need your touch
I see the truth inside these tearful eyes
I know next time I'll make it up to you
I can't live without you I swear I'll be true
Girl all that I need is to be where you are

How deep is your love, girl I can't deny?
The pain that I feel you're the reason why
If only I could've known that I could be so wrong
How deep is your love, I can see it inside
The times you cried and stayed by my side
I finally realised the day you cried

How deep is your love, I can see it inside
The times you cried and stayed by my side
I finally realised the day you cried
