

Day By Day

Useless ID

another endless day, i could't find a way to spend some time on writing songs with stupid meanings i can't find a way to make some sense my mind is such a mess, my girlfriend says i really suck and that my thoughts i can't express another sunny day, still i can't find a way how to describe just what i feel maybe my brain is holding still if there's a better way for me to sing and play it must be silence, i'm so poor but there's one thing i know for sure can't be wrong can't belong to what i thought that i once were can't be right cannot fight for something that's not worth it who's to blame what a shame i don't really care at all another rainy day, i can't find a better way to give a meaning to it all i guess my luck is very small when i woke up today, drunk from yesterday i know tomorrow will be the same it's only me i have to blame
