Useless ID

The Punks were pissed tonight
They just came here to fight
Did you notice I don't call anymore
I just might
Write stupid letters and say I'm alright
If you know me by now
You will probably start

To see through the lies
To read through the lines
You won't believe a latter
You read in my letter

No, you won't believe

So put your faith in me
I know you've found someone else
Someday it's gonna work for us
I'll put my feelings on a shelf
Trust is something my words won't buy
And now I know why

I see through the lies
I read through the lines
I won't believe a latter
I read in your letter

No, I won't believe
