

Hang me, I'm the hang man. Are you watching?
Are you listening to your life as it flashes right before your eyes?
Angels in the closet like the saviors to your nightmares,
When you're chasing all the demons in your head, you did.

Why should I wait or spend my life going down a path to the dead of night?
If only I could break the curse inside,
Does it matter if we live or die?

Send her and I'll surrender.
Execute me with a romance.
I'm a bleeder. I'll believe her when she takes me for the winter.
We have got to change, we'll rearrange if we engage,
in the right time for a lifetime,
but it gets lonely in the night time.

Why should I wait or spend my life going down a path to the dead of night?
If only I could break the curse inside,
Waiting for the bride when she can't arrive.
I'm sleeping with the dead just to feel alive.
If only I could break the curse inside,
Does it matter if we live or die?

Our time is running out.
We're body form and fractured.
We burn into the ground.
We're all just skeletons.
We live in segregation.
We're dying in this cell.

Why should I wait or spend my life going down a path to the dead of night?
If only I could break the curse inside,
Waiting for the bride when she can't arrive.
I'm sleeping with the dead just to feel alive.
If only I could break the curse inside,
Does it matter if we live or die?

live or die?
live or die?
live or die?
