Graduated college successfully
At the age of 21
Yeah, it's time to conquer the world
And money is his goal
He never realized why
He didn't give a second thought
About how he's going to spend his life
Dedicating every hour, every day
Now he's 45, got a lot of money, but for what?
Looking back on his youth and thinking
"Well, I couldn't have had much more"
But now, tell me, what does he got?
Nothing!

And now's he's all alone
No one waits for him at home
Yeah, now he's all alone
