

On the other side, where the pain is less
We could talk about our aging friends
On the other side, we begin again
And forget about the world we shared

Somewhere down the line
there's a place for you and I
But it may take sacrifice
I'm aware and it scares me inside

An emptiness that we once found
On a sinking ship to an aching ground
An emptiness that we once felt
From the uterus to the last of breath

Somewhere down the line
There's a place for you and I
But it may take sacrifice
I'm aware and it scares me inside

Somewhere down the line
There's a place for you and I
But it may take sacrifice
I'm aware and it scares me inside

On the other side
On the other side
Somewhere down the line
Somewhere down the line
