

Paper Heart

Vains of Jenna

Hey! Am I okay?
Blinded from what's real in my lies
Chase the tears away
Filling up the dam in my mind

Trippin' on scars made from all my mistakes
Pushing myself off the edge in disgrace
Holding on to your heart now

I'm not okay!
Fadin' in to shame
Get up, get out of the misery
Your paper heart got wet and fell apart
Crumbled down in pieces in front of me

From daydreams of sunshine to nightmares of rain
The echo of silence is all that remains
Hate myself for walking away

I'm out of place
I haven't slept in days, now I'm numbin' all the pain you better slap me in the face so I can feel you now
So come on, please!
My apologies!
No one left to blame
It will never be the same
Can you hear me now

Trippin' on scars made from all my mistakes
Pushing myself off the edge in disgrace

Dried all the pieces underneath the sun
Glued 'em back to one
It's waiting here for you

Your heart is safe in between my palms
Kept away from harm
It's waiting here for you

Dried all the pieces underneath the sun
Glued 'em back to one

Your heart is safe in between my palms
Kept away from harm
It's waiting here for you
