

The Art of Telling Lies

Vains of Jenna

This can't go on
The madness that's programmed in our minds
All the time
History just keeps repeatin'
I'm sick and tired cause no ones takes the blame

It's so frustrating

Stand up and face what they have done
The strength is deep inside
It's time to change what's now become
The Art Of Telling Lies

Don't be afraid
Life can't get much worse for us today
In every way
Blow up all your daily routines
And question every word you hear them say

It's all disgusting

Stand up and face what they have done
The strength is deep inside
It's time to change what's now become
The Art Of Telling Lies

Devil heads in dirty suits
Dissect the world that's blinded to our eyes

Mislead by the choices made
Their broken trust has left us here behind

Puppeteers with promises
Speak empty words and tainted evil lies

Justify what's good for them
They rape our souls and leave us here to die