

Hurt More Later

Val Emmich

Conversation comes naturally
He holds your hand real carefully
Butterflies are fluttering
Your courage is sputtering
Cuz you never win

You're finally there
When your heart starts to wear
Cuz you know how this ends
Passion fades, you pretend
So you're walking away
To let perfection remain
You'll never see this unwind
Your love frozen in time

You try your best to take it slow
But it feels good to lose control
It's moving faster everyday
You wish it could just stay this way
But you know it won't

You're finally there
When your heart starts to wear
Cuz you know how this ends
Passion fades, you pretend
So you're walking away
To let perfection remain
You'll never see this unwind
Your love frozen in time

It hurts now but it will hurt more later
It hurts now but it will hurt more later
Hurt more later
Much more much later
