

i heard it through the grapevineyards gossip, data, knowledge, updated classified facts- NO!
it was all an illusion!
these savages use smoke and mirrors to throw you far away from any real facts.
sight beyond sight and careful scrutiny is required when listening to your commander in chief we are being faced with a facade of civility for some reason all hands are on deck and our country is armed to the teeth and doing everything in their power to disarm everyone else while simultaneously turning the country into a gigantic money making, money spending shit machine this lust for newness is more addictive than any drug.
we're all hooked and we can all do better.
we should be ashamed for listening to this clown.
only probability can heal the splintered mind.
