

Falling Star

Vanilla Ninja

See my face in the mirror
Asking me questions
What have I done?
How come I'm down at point zero
Only dreams of tomorrow left in my hands
I see the lights turning down
There's no one around
Is heaven watching over me?

'Cause here I'm waiting for a falling star
And I am wishing for the dawn to come
To make a new start
Out of the dark
My falling star

Time and space disappearing
But I keep on hearing
Your voice in my head
Telling me who to be
But you never believed in me

'Cause here I'm waiting for a falling star
And I am wishing for the dawn to come
To make a new start
Out of the dark
My falling star

Why did I waste my time on you?
(You) should've known better not to break the rules
Now that you're gone
I'm finally free to breathe

'Cause here I'm waiting for a falling star
To make a new start
Out of the dark
My falling star

And I am wishing for the dawn to come
To make a new start
Out of the dark
My falling star

Waiting for a falling star
And I am wishing for the dawn to come
To make a new start
Out of the dark
My falling star
