

30 is the New 20

Vanilla Sky

Another day I close my eyes
Pretending it's alright
Another chance to prove myself
I'm not who I thought I was

And I'm trying to find a way to survive
I need a little help so I start drinking
More and more I lose control

But everytime I wake up the morning after
A voice in my head keeps repeating I'm too hold
My stomach is spinning around

I don't know where I am,
Don't know where I've been
A thousand missed calls
And texts I shouldn't have sent
Who's laying next to me?
The truth is I'm 30
But I'm living like I'm 20
That's how I feel

Another show, another city
Another place to see
On the road, it's getting worst
Just trying to kill some time

Still I'm trying to find a way to survive
And begging for a help,
I start drinking more and more
And even more

But everytime I wake up the morning after
A voice in my head keeps repeating I'm too hold
My stomach is spinning around
I don't know where I am,
Don't know where I've been
A thousand missed calls
And texts I shouldn't have sent
Who's laying next to me?
The truth is I'm 30
But I'm living like I'm 20
That's how I feel

Everytime I wake up the morning after
Everytime I wake up the morning after
Everytime I wake up the morning after
Don't know where I am the morning after 30 feels like 40 the morning after
We make promises that we can't keep

But everytime I wake up the morning after
A voice in my head keeps repeating I'm too hold
My stomach is spinning around
I don't know where I am,
Don't know where I've been
A thousand missed calls

And texts I shouldn't have sent
Who's laying next to me?
The truth is I'm 30
But I'm living like I'm 20
That's how I feel
