

I Will Awake

Vanishing Point

In the silence I hear a call A childlike cry of innocence Overcome by a guiding light, but I just want to rest

Cascading shadows appear Breaking through a whirlpool of broken dreams
A merciless hand wipes the tears from my eyes as whispers turn into screams

As I close my eyes
The vivid rain, enclouds my memory
If I'm dreaming don't wake me
I will rise so easily
As I close my eyes outside the world, lies in yesterday
If I'm dreaming I will wake

Breaking promises, breaking hearts
A mind has been led astray Alone you walk a misguided path that no-one dares to stay Can I bring something back with me to show I was really there?
And as I awake beside myself lost within my stare
