

Vale Of Tears

Varius Manx

The century's falling
Times fall from the grace
The decadent whispers
Get louder again

The end on horizon
We lose or we win
Who cares who's the winner
We're just soldiers of tin

We're spoiling our talents
Sing songs without tune
Still throwing red roses
Into the spittoon

I don't want to follow
This old bitten track
I'm taking my wing now
To never get back

Give me the power
And wings that don't melt
I'll soar up the mountains
And skim trough the clouds

I don't want to lose it
I've got one life for all
So don't stop me leaving
My blue vale of tears

I don't want to waste it
I've got one life for it all
So let me go up there
My blue vale of tears

We're roving emotions
As they fade day by day
Suppressed wild desires
We gamble away

Between good and evil
And the deepest blue of sea
Unless we get winged
We'll never be free
