

Love Song

Varsity Fanclub

I woke up this morning with a song in my head
And a picture I couldn't erase
I sang all around the house and the words that I sang
Are the things I couldn't say to your face

I tried to just tell you I wrote you a letter
But everytime I said that I could do better
I wrote you a poem I sent you a message
But somehow my voice is the best way you can get this

And I want you to get this before its too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day

And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
So I've decided to give this gift to you
This is your very first love song
Very first love song

I spoke with my heart every syllable I'm telling
Is from the courage to tell you how I feel
I been all around the corner to the coffee shop
Every day your in the window sitting there

I tried to just tell you I didn't know how
Cause somehow the words just wouldn't come put my mouth
And sometimes a song speaks better than words
And this one is your very first love song

And I want you to get this before its too late (too late)
And I want you to feel every word that I say (that I say)
And I want you to hear every breath that I take (i take)
You know I take a thousand more each day
(a thousand more each day)

And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
(couldn't live without you)
So I've decided to give this gift to you (to you)
This is your very first love song

You know baby girl there are so many more to come
And you give me so much love
Ill give you the world oh yeah

And I want you to get this before its too late
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
(you know)

And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
(couldn't live without you)
So I've decided to give this gift to you

This is your very first love song (hey hey hey)
Very first love song

And I want you to get this before its too late (too late)
And I want you to feel every word that I say
And I want you to hear every breath that I take
You know I take a thousand more each day
(a thousand more each day)

And every melody you hear is about you
And every lyric couldn't live without you
(couldn't live without you)
So I've decided to give this gift to you
(give this gift to you)
This is your very first love song

This is your very first love song
This is your very first love song
(I couldn't live without you)
This is your very first love song
(give this gift to you)
This is this is (cause its your very first love song)
This is your very first love song
This is your very first love song
This is your very first love song
