You Got No Right

Velvet Revolver

I fell through the ice She won't be coming back too soon It never wins to lie She said you'll never have no rights (She said you'll never have no rights...no right)

I've took it farther on the outside I've took it nearly to the brink And if you've seen me on the outside You would have barely seen me breathe

Funny right here I find myself Inside a paper cup Without a warning or a reason it's a treason With no answer

You got no right To keep me waiting here You got no right To keep the pain in here That holds the crown

And if I fall apart on the outside (You really don't believe me) And if I take it to the brink And if I fall apart on the outside / (You really don't believe me) You would have barely seen me breathe

And if I meet you out tonight Will you be loving me forever It's always over after the night

It's always colder after the night

I broke through the ice She won't be coming back again It's been a year and a night

And if I fall apart on the outside (You really don't believe me) And if I take it to the brink And if I fall apart on the outside / (You really don't believe me) You would have barely seen me breathe

And if I fall apart on the outside (She said you you'll never have no rights) And if I fall apart on the outside (She said you you'll never have no rights) And if I fall apart on the outside (She said you you'll never have no rights) And if I fall apart on the outside
