Way Down Deep

Vern Gosdin

This highway of heartache is rocky and rough Lord, I learned a long time ago You can't build a fire from the ashes of love Roses don't bloom in the snow

Down deep inside my soul Where once it was cold and dark I feel your love take a-hold Way down deep in my heart

You were my light on the darkest of days Though storms that were raging within And slowly but surely the clouds rolled away And the sun started shining again

Down deep inside my soul Where once it was cold and dark I feel your love take a-hold Way down deep in my heart

Down deep inside my soul Where once it was cold and dark I feel your love take a-hold Way down deep in my heart

Down deep inside my soul Where once it was cold and dark I feel your love take a-hold Way down deep in my heart
