

Moments Between Sleep

VersaEmerge

Here the seasons don't exist, a summer held in hand
Rest while locks melt from our doors again
Still I know we speak to not forget

We were all so undone that we couldn't think of one
My eyes won't seem to close, I don't wanna see it go
It's amazingly strange

In this cities callowness we've lost our innocence
Cheek to cheek but my maps are changing
Oh, don't forget

We were all so undone that we couldn't think of one
My eyes won't seem to close, I don't wanna see it go
It's amazingly strange how we all seem to change
'Cause we were all so undone, undone

Shooting moons from the sea wall
Rattle the ocean till it falls
I don't know who you'll be

We were all so undone that we couldn't think of one
My eyes won't seem to close, I don't wanna see it go
It's amazingly strange how we all seem to change
'Cause we were all so undone, undone, undone
