

I Brought The BBQ

VETO

I brought the BBQ
the stars and all the rest
it's such a shame that you just left me I came in second then I am in a marathon
I'll gain on you some day just trust me

I can't believe what I just witnessed here today a thousand memories
just fade and fly away I'll find you someday in the middle of the war I can't believe that you don't need me anymore

I brought the humor and a smile to fit your face I won't hear the words you will tell me I brought the liquor and the drunken attitude
I can't believe that you can hate me

I crawl back into the pieces of our plane
I wish that we could fly again
