

Nemesis, Babe

VETO

Take it and run
I promise I'll find you, just take it and run
Take it and hide, it will kill you on site
And I stay here and wait
When they come I will fight every last one of them
Yeah, I'll sit here and wait for my Nemesis, babe

'Cause the chances are one in a million
That I'll ever find a love like this again
So you have to hold on to me baby
I will never find another one like you
But I hope that I can keep the deamons away and the fire alive
I hope that they think that its hard to put out
And I hope that you know that I love you the most and it's always been you
But in a world like this is, it's so hard to be true

But the chances are one in a million
I will never find a love like this again
So you have to hold on to me baby
I will never find a love like this again

But if you think that acting like a man is fucking everything you can, you're wrong!

But the chances are one in a million
I will never ever find a love like you again
So you have to hold on to me baby
I will never ever find a love like you again
