We Are Not Your Friends

if I'm going to be swept away
it's going to mean
changes around here
and if it means
that you'll change too
I hope the changes
are for the better

in a way I know all of the right words to say I know excactly how this will end called you the other day and they said you'd gone away to somewhere far from me and they said: don't you call again, 'cause we are not your friends no, you shoukd run away and if you must leave me behind won't you please, please, please just set me free 'cause you've got me by the horns you know all the right things to say