

Hole In Your Heart

Vicci Martinez

You were a young one so full of love and life
Oh so humble put your feelings aside
All you ever did was give never would take Sleep til things get better I know one day you'll wake Dreams, your hopes, your aspirations to me it seemed they'd last
t
So far out into the future you climbed your way there fast
For you nothing was a struggle you knew it all from the start
I guess this time you got distracted from the hole in your heart
You threw it all away for no more tears
You used this time to mend that hole in your heart
Yearned for somebody to hold you for somebody to hug
You never wanted to be lonely you only wanted to be loved
All you ever really asked for babe was true happiness
It must of seemed too hard to conquer now you lay to rest
You threw it all away for no more tears
You used this time to mend that hole in your heart
In your heart
