Freedom Begins at Home

Vice Squad

Fighting against two enemies One's commercial, one's pretence Play me off against each other Self-belief's my only defence

Big or small, they're all the same All out wheeling and dealing Playing the money making game Unaffected by our feelings

I won't be hurt by either side
I'd rather be alone
I'll make you listen somehow

Freedom begins at home Freedom begins at home Founded on resentment

A few more envious lies
I won't be crushed by any of you
Or cast my principles aside
We've learnt things you don't yet know
I'll make you see you were wrong
In time, I'll develop and grow
The tune might change but not the song
