

A Thousand Pains

Vickie Winans

Have you ever wanted someone who knew
The pain that you've been through
Have you ever wanted someone to share
The load that you must bear
And have you ever wanted someone to mend
Your brokenheart again

Cause even when you cry
And tears feel your eyes
Know that i am there

I know it feels like a thousand pains come at one time
I see you hold back a million tears and dry your eyes
And when it seems your all alone i'm by your side
Cause even in your sorrow
There is hope for tomorrow
Don't you worry he will be right there
He will be right there

Have you ever needed peace within
Or just a faithful friend
Your faith and love have faded away
And with that hope is gone astray

Cause even when you cry
And tears feel your eyes
Know that i am there

Trust, believe
Look beyond yourself
To find the faith to leave the past beyond
Just forgive one more time