For the Last Time

One look, one kiss Just a few words Showed me such kindness

Your eyes really see me Not for what I've been But for who I am and what could be

How did you know, I was waiting? How did you know, you were saving me? Oh, what a gift to leave it all behind Lonely has known me for the last time

This love is forever It won't be taken For granted, not ever

How did you know, I was waiting? How did you know, you were saving me? Oh, what a gift to leave it all behind Lonely has known me for the last time

How did you know, I was waiting? How did you know, you were saving me? Oh, what a gift to leave it all behind Lonely has known me for the last time Lonely has known me for the last time