

Without You

Virtuocity

Waking from the dream with the memory of your smile
Touching your skin burns like a fire
Six strings on the row and in the seventh heaven open the gates of the hidden treasures

Tomorrow is too late to say goodbye
The road goes on and on between the hard and high
I'm the moonchild in the night
We never say goodbye

Without you, without you

There's Venus in the sky and the moon is in the Capricorn
I give you everything you need from my heart from my soul Thought the string of hidden sounds through the gates of seven th heaven we could right through the night

Tomorrow is too late to say goodbye
The road goes on and on between the hard and high
I'm the moonchild in the night
We never say goodbye

Without you there's no meaning in my life
Without you I can't believe in love
Without you my heart falls apart
Without you there's no meaning in my life

There's no meaning without you...
