

Hidden Sign

Visage

Take a look in the mirror, I've been crying out my eyes for you
Cold icy decisions and I wonder
Is it pain that tears my heart from me or is it loss?
All I know is that I want something more more more

Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign
Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign

No more left in the giver, no more crying in the rain for you
Just the thought makes me shiver and I wonder
Was I sane to give my heart to you or just bold?
All I know is that I want something more more more

Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign
Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign

Wherever you're going I don't wanna go
Whenever you're crying I don't wanna know

Walking in a Parisian boulevard, tears streaming in my face
Looking below us, our hearts were breaking
Did we face a different feeling?
Your face, your thoughts intact, visions, feelings, just forlorn
Fading into darkness, fading into darkness

Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign
Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign

Wherever you're going I don't wanna go
Whenever you're crying I don't wanna know

Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)
Don't go looking for a hidden sign
Don't go asking me to change my mind (I'm begging you for my forgiveness)

rgiveness)

Don't go looking for a hidden sign
