

Bitter Visions

Voices of Destiny

Lie down beside me and hold
My hand to show me that
I am not one of a thousand ones
Show me that I\'m the only child
For which the day should die
For which the sunlight turns dim
When I am going to sleep

Please tell me why shouldn\'t I think
We\'re like a grain of sand
Here on the island of loneliness
All I want you is to
Be the life I\'ve been searching
For which I\'d give my own
Keep all the cold things from me
Strokes of fate

Don\'t you overlook me
Won\'t you remember my name
Give me one memory
Just to take all my fears far away

Push my soul down the coast
Will there be something to break
My infinity sleep
A strong black force
Blood red thorns to keep me caught
Will I fall to ashes and never be reborn

Don\'t you overlook me
Won\'t you remember my name
Give me one memory
Just to take all my fears far away
Take my fears far away
Take them away
