

Rewind the Exit

Volbeat

Just bring back that moment and I know I'll be fine
You take down the heavens with starlight
How long can the angels hold your body cold?
You're born with the power and a fire soul
Rewinding the exit wound
I'm holding on to you

'Cause I need words like anyone
And I need love like everyone
With those words I'm strong enough
And I need love like everyone

Hold on to your lifeline and be yourself
Life is too short to be someone else
I'm finally comfortable with who I am
But that doesn't mean that I'm perfect
Rewinding the exit wound
I'm holding on to you

'Cause I need words like anyone
And I need love like everyone
With those words I'm strong enough
And I need love like everyone

Who took your heart?
And who pulled the light out of you?
You gave me your love
I painted my life with the blues

Rewinding the exit wound
I'm holding on to you

'Cause I need words like anyone
And I need love like everyone
With those words I'm strong enough
And I need love like everyone

'Cause I need words like anyone
And I need love like everyone
With those words I'm strong enough
And I need love like everyone
