

You and Me

Vonda Shepard

Part of me wants to break the ice
And part of me wants to leave it exactly how it stands
Part of me wants to roll the dice
And part of me wants to leave them curled up in my hands

Where they will be safe and no one will know
How I really feel and I'll never be real
And I'll roll with the punches that I'll never feel
And I'll have a heart that no one can steal

It's you and me and you're nowhere to be found
I'm rolling on the ground
It's me and you and I'm nowhere to be found

Part of me wants to break these chains
And part of me wants to keep them locked up tight
Part of me wants to stop these rains
And part of me wants them to fall all night

Fall on my head just to wake me up
Anything to drench my half-empty cup
And I'm sorry, baby, I've had enough
I'm tired of your promises, tired of my love

It's you and me and you're nowhere to be found
I'm rolling on the ground
It's me and you and I'm nowhere to be found

You will be safe and no one will know
How you really feel, you'll never be real
And you'll roll with the punches that you'll never feel
And you'll have a heart that I'll never steal

It's you and me and you're nowhere to be found
I'm rolling on the ground
It's me and you and I'm nowhere to be found

It's you and me and you're nowhere to be found
It's you and me and you're nowhere to be found
