

King of Your Dreams

Voodoo Circle

Just a victim of your desire
Always trying to ride the wind
With your innocence fading, you'll always be tempted to sin
Now the shadows they fall so fast, and you can see your way at last
You were playing with fire, and you know you should never give in

Now your the king of all your dreams
So open your eyes now
Walking alone is not all it seems
Now your are the king of your dreams
Cast away your disguise, now that you feel alive
Cause now you're the
King of your dreams

On a journey of no return
Take the path to rid your sorrow
You've been searching for something
That takes all the pain out of you
All the hurt that's inside is now gone
They called you a liar, and bound you to live in your shame

Now your are the king of all your dreams
So open your eyes now
Walking alone is not all it seems
Now your are the king of your dreams
Cast away your disguise, now that you feel alive
Cause now your the King of your dreams

Now your the king of all your dreams
So open your eyes now
Walking alone is not all it seems
Now you are the king of your dreams
You got to remember, walking alone is not all it seems
Cause you are the King of your dreams
